

Co-Creation in the Development of a Cultural Strategy

Invitation to the National Conference

Time: Friday, 24. January 2020, 14.00 – 18.00 Uhr

Place: City Museum of St. Pölten

Programme: As part of the creation of the Culture Strategy 2030, the Department of Culture and Education of the City of St. Pölten and the Institute for Practical Research in the Culture and Education Area EDUCULT invite you to the workshop on Co-Creation.

Co-creation is the new term for increased cooperation between public administrations, local institutions and civil society actors. As part of the EU Erasmus + program, EDUCULT has dealt with the approach and new development processes of co-creative cooperation, especially in the cultural field.

The aim of the workshop is to jointly develop a model or principles for co-creation between organizations in the cultural scene and politics / administration. After an overview of the basics and international examples of co-creation in the cultural sector, questions on how co-creation could be possible implemented within 2030 cultural strategy will be developed interactively.

This national conference has been developed in the framework of 2-year Erasmus plus development project, Sept 2018 – Jan 2020, entitled: "Co-creative cooperation in the field of culture and heritage"

For more information, see the project website: www.co-create.one

The project has been supported by the Danish National Agency of the Erasmus+ programme of the European Union.
